Steelworkers Strike Timken At 4 Factories in Ohio

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Steelworkers Union was on strike today against Timken Roller Bearing Co. following failure to reach agreement after seven weeks of bargaining on pension plan improvements.

About 9,000 workers in plants here and at Columbus, Zanesville and Wooster are affected.

The strike started Wednesday afternoon with men walking off their jobs in Timken's four plants here. Pickets were posted and the afternoon shift did not go to work. Wednesday night, pickets appeared at plant gates in Columbus, where 1,500 are employed, and Zanesville, which has 220 workers.

A union spokesman said the strike started when "the company began loading every available truck with steel and bearings for transportation to another plant elsewhere."

Timken has plants in Bucyrus and New Philadelphia, Ohio, and in Colorado Springs, Colo., which are not organized by the steelworkers' union.

The walk out occurred just prior to a meeting of the union and com-

Public Hearing On Adams May Be Abandoned

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Armed Services subcommittee may abandon plans for a public hearing into Sherman Adams' connection with an Army contract settlement.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) said the group, already running behind schedule on its preliminary closed-door sessions, won't consider open hearings until its record is complete.

He said the subcommittee might decide to make public the transcripts of testimony taken behind closed doors rather than recall witnesses for open questioning. Hebert said the probe would continue into next week.

The subcommittee is trying to determine whether Adams exerted any improper pressure in behalf of Rayline Worsted Inc., of Manchester, N. H. The firm last year received a $41,284 rebate on a 16-year-old penalty payment for late delivery of fabrics.

Adams, top aide to President Eisenhower, has said he did nothing more than pass along routine queries on the case. Former officials of Rayline, now defunct, also deny that any pressure was brought.

U.S. Prepares Khrush Guard

Strong Security Setup Is Mapped

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has started planning the extraordinary security measures to be taken to protect Soviet Premier Khrushchev's life, if and when he comes to New York.

State Department agents will cooperate with the New York City Police Department to handle what is considered the most challenging security task ever faced in modern history in connection with the visit of a foreigner.

New York Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has assured the State Department his 22,000 policemen are capable of coping with the task, however difficult.

Those planning the security measures feel their biggest problem may be provided by some insane fanatic rather than any of the anti-Soviet political and refugee groups.

As an initial step, Edwin L. Lennerts, head of the State Department's Security Field Office in New York, met Wednesday with New York police officials.

William L. Uanna, chief of the State Department's Division of Physical Security, will direct the federal government's role in the security network.

There are now no plans for calling out Army troops or Marines to bolster the security forces which will guard Khrushchev's every step. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said he knew nothing about a published report that 5,000 Marine reserves would be called for guard duty.

Some military forces may help protect Khrushchev's arrival depending on whether his jet plane lands at New York's Idlewild Airport or nearby Maguire Air Force Base in New Jersey. The jet TU104 which flew Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov to the United States landed at Maguire.

Secret Service agents also will be brought in on the security plan to make sure it jibes with their assignment of protecting President Eisenhower. But the main task will be borne by the New York police force.

Bogus Bills Bring Arrest Of Canadians

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—Two Canadians arrested on a suspicious persons charge Wednesday have been charged with possession of counterfeit money. In their car police found $4,760 in counterfeit 20-dollar bills.

The pair were identified as Anthony Iata, 37, and Matthew Joseph Campbell, 29, both of Toronto, Ont.

Police gave the following account: Campbell attempted to pass a 20-dollar bill in a restaurant, but a waitress recognized it as counterfeit. She told Campbell the money was no good and he ran from the restaurant leaving the bogus bill behind.

Police Lt. Clyde W. Boso saw Campbell run from the restaurant and into a nearby bar. Moments later Campbell emerged from the bar with Iata and the two walked to their car. Boso arrested the men on a charge of suspicion.

When he arrived at the police station with the men a report had just been made from the restaurant on the attempted passing of the bogus money.

Boso and police Chief Americo Radeschi searched the men's car and found 238 bills, all 20s, bearing the same serial number. A U.S. treasury agent said bills bearing the same serial number had been passed in several eastern states recently including New York and Rhode Island.

Iata and Campbell will be arraigned before U.S. Commissioner William Dornan in Youngstown today on a charge of passing and possessing counterfeit money.

Iraq Rebels Plan Parley with UAR

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—A high official of Iraq's revolutionary regime said today his government is preparing negotiations for a union with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

Iraqi Deputy Premier Abdel Salam Aref told a Cairo newspaper U.A.R.-Iraqi committees are being formed to discuss military, political, economic and educational matters with the aim of uniting similar institutions in all these fields.

New Regime Curbing Communist Activities

By TALBOT PATRICK BAGHDAD (AP)—Iraq's new revolutionary government, by actions even more convincingly than by words, has shown that it is not pro-Communist.

The first day of the revolt, Iraqi newspapermen told me repeatedly later, Communist leaders proposed to the army officers leading the rebellion that a National Guard or militia be formed to help in possible defense of the new government. The proposal, I was told, was turned down flat.

During the first two days of the revolution, Communist and anti-Western slogans were repainted on many walls and houses. Signs were put on the front of British-owned stores and firms: "Don't buy from foreigners."

By the third day, the army officers who led the revolution were bringing into the government, as Cabinet ministers and in other important positions, mature men of known ability and recognized position. Most of them had records of opposition to the former regime.

Then the army issued an order that anybody caught painting up Communist slogans would be court-martialed. Under army directions, the red paint of the Communist slogans was blanked out with green paint.

Censors in newspaper offices blanked out from the reports and editorials they read all pet words and phrases of the Communist line, according to Iraqi newspaper acquaintances.

Although there now is the censorship of newspapers, local newspapermen look forward to a time when the new government feels more safely established. They hope then for more freedom than under the royal regime.

Iraqis who were interested and sympathetic observers of the new revolutionary government said the new regime definitely does not intend that Iraq become a part of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.

There is a strong conviction that eventually there will be a single Arab nation, but not one dominated by Egypt, as the U.A.R. is.

tual defense treaty in Damascus July 19 but there were reports then that the Iraqi rebels had no intention of uniting with U.A.R.

Aref told the weekly newspaper Sabah Elkheir he is looking forward to the day when all Arab countries will join.

The newspaper Al Ahram predicted a surge to Nasser's Arab nationalism also would wrench non-Arab but Moslem Pakistan from the Baghdad Pact. Iraq was the only Arab member of the anti-Communist Pact, which also embraces Turkey, Iran and Britain.

In Bonn, Iraqi Ambassador Ali Haider Sulaiman added his voice to the chorus of professions of friends for the West coming from Iraq's revolutionary regime.

Sulaiman told reporters Iraq "cannot do without the West, especially Europe" in building up its economy.

"From the beginning, the new regime has made it clear it has the friendliest feelings toward the West," Sulaiman said. "The new government will protect the production and supply of oil and will honor its obligations entered into with the oil companies."

Iranian Girl Tipped To Be Shah's Queen

LONDON (AP)—Raven-haired Lily Myhra Fallah reportedly has been summoned back to Tehran from an exclusive English finishing school, leaving behind a buzz of speculation that she will be the Shah of Iran's next queen.

Friends of the beautiful 18-year-old Iranian girl say she will fly to Paris next week to choose a touseau for her wedding to the handsome 38-year-old monarch.

The friends say the wedding may be sometime in October.

But in Tehran, Iran's royal court minister today denied the report. "The Shah has made no decision," the minister said.

For weeks, Lily's secret has been kept at the Paddock Wood Finishing School, which lies among rolling heathland. There are 48 girls—mostly foreign—at the school.

"Two weeks ago a chauffeur-driven car arrived here from the Iranian Embassy and Lily left to catch a plane to Tehran," the school's matron said Wednesday night.

Lily is tall, olive-skinned and the daughter of Reza Fallah, wealthy boss of Iran's nationalized oil industry. He reportedly was called to the Shah four months ago and told Lily was among those being considered to become the Shah's wife, succeeding ex-Queen Soraya. The Shah divorced Soraya in April because she had not borne him an heir to the throne.

UAW To Discuss Layoff Benefits

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiators for the United Auto Workers Union say they are prepared to discuss a union proposal to broaden layoff pay benefits at the resumption of contract talks with the big three car makers today.

Ken Bannon, director of the UAW's Ford department, said the union is seeking to increase supplemental unemployment benefits to 80 per cent of take-home pay for 52 weeks for laid-off workers. At present, maximum benefits are 60 to 65 per cent of take-home pay for 26 weeks.

New Long-Range Jet Is Produced

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The first B52G jet bomber, which may be able to fly halfway around the world without refueling, rolled off the production line at Boeing Airplane Co. Wednesday.

Boeing says the new plane is in the 650 m.p.h. class, can go higher than 50,000 feet and has better range than its 6,000 mile plus predecessor.

Aviation writers who saw the plane estimated its range at 10,000 miles.

U.S. Dislikes Idea of Start Next Monday

That Date Is Labeled Too Soon; Important Precedents To Be Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower began writing a new message to Premier Khrushchev today insisting that the ground rules be spelled out clearly in advance of a United Nations summit conference.

U.S. officials said it seems certain that the meeting will be held. But here, and in other Western capitals, the view was that the opening day suggested by Khrushchev, next Monday, is much too soon.

Diplomats estimated it would take two or three weeks of negotiations to determine exactly what countries should be included and what procedures should govern discussions.

Nothing quite like the proposed historic conference has ever been held at the U.N. Security Council in New York. Important precedents will be set.

Recognition of this was reflected in a stand by Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California that the free nations should not accept any Khrushchev conditions which weaken the U.N.

Knowland told a news conference he considered a fundamental issue to be whether the Soviet government, or any other country, can in effect unilaterally change the procedures of the U.N. by fiat of its own.

If this is permitted, he said, it will in effect have undermined and ultimately jeopardized the future existence of the organization.

Knowland's views are among a considerable flow of congressional opinion that the White House is receiving informally through liaison officers.

An idea put forward by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is that Prime Minister Ben Gurion of Israel and representatives of the Arab states should be included in any summit conference on the Middle East.

"This conference offers the first opportunity we've had to do something constructive to work out a solution for the Arab-Israeli dispute which is the seed bed for problems in the Middle East," Humphrey told reporters today.

Humphrey had just come from a briefing given a group of senators by William Macomber, assistant secretary of state.

"Ben Gurion of Israel should by all means be invited to the conference," Humphrey asserted. "If Israel and the Arab states are included we would have an opportunity of clarifying relationships."

"The relations between Israel and the Arab states are at the root of the problem, rather than the question of U.S.-Soviet relations about which we have talked so much."

Space-Junketing Mouse Is Hunted

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—

Ships and planes searched Atlantic waters off the African coast today for a small white mouse who could tell man a lot about the perils of travel in outer space.

The mouse, named Wickie, was blasted aloft Wednesday. She rode in an air-conditioned chamber inside the nose cone of a Thor-Able rocket.

The rocket, said the Air Force, performed satisfactorily. That meant that it climbed 600 miles above the earth, then angled over into a horizontal flight that reached 6,000 miles to the vicinity of Ascension Island near the African continent.

If the rocket's nose cone was found after its plunge from space, it could solve "any secrets."

Military men wanted to know if the cone could withstand the great friction heat encountered in its dive back into the earth's atmosphere. If so, it could be depended upon to shield a hydrogen bomb in intercontinental flight in case of war.

Space scientists who hope someday to send men to the moon and beyond were especially interested in how the mouse fared in the 12,000 m.p.h. journey to space and back.

If Wickie survived, it would be the first known time that a living animal had gone into space and returned alive.

This was the third test of a Thor-Able rocket.

The first failed April 23. On July 9, the second Thor-Able became the first U.S. ballistic missile to travel the 6,000-mile intercontinental range. Attempts to recover its nose cone and a mouse rider were unsuccessful.

Broad Hike In Social Security Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—An across the board increase in Social Security benefits moved rapidly toward election year action in Congress today.

The House Ways and Means Committee reached all but final agreement on a flat 7 per cent boost in old age and disability payments, with a minimum $3 increase for all persons now receiving retirement checks.

For those workers not yet at retirement age, it would mean deduction of up to $25.50 more a year from their take-home pay because of a one-quarter per cent hike in the Social Security tax and enlargement of their taxable wage base from $4,200 to $4,800.

The committee reached informal agreement on the benefit hike and an accompanying tax increase after rejecting a proposal for a flat 10 per cent raise in benefits.

Some members, however, were hopeful the Senate would change House figures to bring the increase near the 10 per cent level.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) said he hoped to have a completed bill ready by Monday for presentation to the House, where passage was regarded as certain.

The benefit increase probably would take effect next year along with the accompanying hike in the tax rate.

The committee plan also calls for a speedup in the schedule of periodic tax increases now provided under present law. It would move up from 1975 to 1969 the date when the maximum tax on workers and employers alike fall due, and raise the final tax rate from 4½ to 4¾ per cent.

1938 Dollar's Worth Costs $2.05 Now, Study Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs have gone up 105 per cent in the 20 years since 1938, years that have included World War II and the Korean War.

That means that on the average, you must pay $2.05 today for something you could have bought for a dollar back in 1938.

The government released its latest living cost index Wednesday. It showed a fractional rise from May to June, less than one-tenth of 1 per cent. But it was a new living cost record, the 20th set in the past 22 months.

Government experts provided figures on request showing the story of those 20 years, broken down into 5-year stanzas.

Their data show that from 1938 to 1943 consumer costs rose 23 per cent; from 1943 to 1948, 39 per cent; from 1948 to 1953, 11 per cent; and from 1953 to 1958, with President Eisenhower in the White House, 8 per cent.

But while the over-all living cost level soared 105 per cent in those 20 years, some individual family budget items didn't go up that much and some advanced much more.

For example, where the cost of gas and electricity rose only a little over 11 per cent, coal and fuel oil jumped 129 per cent.

In the 1938-58 span the cost of a new car rose 125 per cent, rent 60 per cent and food a whopping 151 per cent.

Hospital costs eclipsed almost everything else, rising nearly 300 per cent. Doctor fees increased 84 per cent, men's haircuts 206 per cent, gasoline 69 per cent, household appliances 33 per cent, newspapers 124 per cent and movie-admissions 120 per cent.

Oddly enough, costs of men's clothes in those two decades rose 110 per cent, but women's clothes climbed only 78 per cent.

Now turn to the past five years under Eisenhower, in which living costs have risen 8 per cent. This again is a composite of many different changes.

For example, in the 1938-58 period food has increased 7.8 per cent, housing 8.6, rents 11, gas-electricity 9.7, coal-fuel oil 6.3, and clothing 1.8 per cent. Hospital costs rose 33 per cent, hospitalization insurance the same, haircuts 23.1, movies 25 and newspapers 20.

But in the past five years there were substantial price declines, too. Appliances, probably due to price discounts, declined 15 per cent, including TV sets 6 per cent, radios 10 per cent, refrigerators 33 per cent and vacuum cleaners 23 per cent.

A pair of women's nylons now costs 13 per cent less than five years ago, men's pajamas 1 per cent less, bedsheets down 8.3 per cent and used cars 12.6 per cent less.

So it goes in the mixed-up price world consumers face every day. The only consoling thought is that the government price experts say they expect some modest living cost decline in the next few months as cheaper summer food supplies reach market.

attached to a summit meeting were that Prime Minister Nehru of India and Arab leaders be invited.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred by telephone early this morning on a reply to the Soviet Premier. The White House said they talked before a National Security Council meeting.

Summit questions presumably were discussed at the council meeting. After it was over, Dulles stayed on for a private talk with the President.

Eisenhower and Dulles, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty reported, were concerned with working out a reply to Khrushchev.

Hagerty held open the possibility that the message might be dispatched to Moscow today but said that was not certain by any means.

The belief was strong in diplomatic quarters here, however, that the obstacles will be overcome and the conference opened within two or three weeks.

The principal difficulties still in the way of arranging the proposed meeting, as defined by officials here, are these:

1. Khrushchev's acceptance mentioned specifically the attendance also of Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Macmillan, French Premier de Gaulle and Prime Minister Nehru of India.

But Paris dispatches said it was unlikely that De Gaulle would attend. While favoring a summit meeting in principle, he has publicly announced his opposition to such a meeting at the U.N. at this time on the ground that it would be a propaganda battle royal.

The question raised by his attitude is this: If De Gaulle flatly refuses, as French diplomats predict he will, will Khrushchev come anyway?

2. Khrushchev said that invitations to participate must go to Prime Minister Nehru and the governments of the Arab countries. But neither India nor most of the Arab states are members of the Security Council. They could participate as nonvoting guests if the Council invites them as interested parties, but even this would change the nature of the meeting that the Western powers envisioned — that is, an extraordinary session of Security Council members.

3. In his letter to Eisenhower Khrushchev renewed his charge that the Western powers have committed aggression in the Middle East. Eisenhower previously had rejected the accusation, and it seemed clear he is determined not to go into the conference in the role of a defendant.

Court Asked To Settle Golf Handicap Fuss

OSSINING, N.Y. (AP)—A golfer has asked the New York State Supreme Court to compute his golf handicap.

William W. Wacht, a member of the nearby Pines Ridge Golf Club, seeks a court order compelling the club's handicap committee to raise his handicap to 34 from its present 29.

The handicap committee decided recently to make an "adjustment in Wacht's handicap in view of his record of tournament victories."

Today, Supreme Court Justice Samuel W. Eager, in the rough and looking for a way out, adjourned the case for a week. He said the handicap committee will meet Saturday on the matter.

"Maybe if I went out and played a round of golf with you, I could straighten this thing out," Justice Eager told the opposing sides in the case.

"It would be easier than determining the law on the situation," Wacht, 60, a former president of the club, is a four-times-a-week golfer. He averages near 90 in club tournaments, his fellow members say. In regular rounds he usually does 18 holes in 115.

Wacht says his game depends on the season of the year. "Generally I hit a short and straight ball. In August when the ground is hard, I get a better roll."

U.S. Admiral Missing on Pacific Trip

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The disappearance at sea of a high echelon admiral of U.S. forces in Japan from an ocean liner was reported today.

Rear Adm. L. C. Quiggle, 52, was last seen aboard the liner President Cleveland at midnight Tuesday while en route from Honolulu to San Francisco.

Quiggle's wife reported her husband's disappearance. A radio-gram to American President Lines in San Francisco said a thorough search of the President Cleveland was made. No clues were found.

Defense Shakeup Bill Getting Nod From Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House swiftly passed and sent to the Senate today a compromise defense reorganization bill containing most of the provisions requested by President Eisenhower.

Prompt Senate passage was expected to send the measure to the President.

The House acted by voice vote and without opposition after terse debate. Only about 50 members were on hand.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee told the House that Senate and House conferees who worked out the compromise bill were in unanimous agreement.

Rep. Leslie Arends (R-Ill.), senior minority member of the committee, said the bill was "in complete accord with the wishes of those who sponsored the legislation originally."

27 Ohioans Head For Russian Tour

BONN, Germany (AP)—Twenty-seven Methodists from Ohio are heading for Russia prepared to ask everybody in sight a lot of searching questions.

The churchmen, educators, farmers and businessmen, are armed with lengthy questionnaires designed to probe the attitude of Russians toward the United States.

The group today continued a swing through Germany. They will fly from Berlin to Moscow next Thursday.

Joseph W. Fichter of Oxford, Ohio, the leader of the group, said it is sponsored by the Board of World Peace of the Methodist Church.

Farm Training For Veterans Nearing End

Veterans today were reminded that time is drawing to a close to take advantage of farm training.

The reminder came from L. B. Fidler, special supervisor for Vocational Agricultural of the Veterans Training and Education Service.

Veterans who entered the Armed Forces prior to Feb. 1, 1955, are entitled to institutional on-the-farm training. But the time limit is nearing an end due to the fact that veterans soon will pass their delimiting date for initiating a course of training which must be done within three years following date of separation from the armed forces.

Also within another two year period present classes for farm training may need to be discontinued in many areas as most Veterans who are interested in the training will have completed their entitlement by that time.

All veterans desiring to take advantage of their entitlement to farm training should immediately contact the county superintendent of schools in their respective counties or the county veterans service officer.

In CONTACTING these officers, veterans should leave their name and address, date of entry and date of separation, and directions to their respective farms. They will in turn receive an application with Optional Farm Lease attached which they will execute and return to the office of the County Superintendent of Schools.

The form then will be forwarded to this office, c/o Veterans Institutional On-Farm Training, 220 South Parsons Avenue, Columbus. Upon receipt of such applications in this office, every attempt will be made to service the veteran according to his desires.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Peter J. Maida turned the 1957 directory over to the telephone company employee when he came to the house with this year's directory.

A few minutes later bills in denominations of $10, $20, $50 and $100 were fluttering along the sidewalk. A little boy ran up to his father with $120. A woman gave a policeman $195.

This much at least was accounted for when her husband, a master sergeant, came home and told his wife he kept his $800 savings in the book.

All four had been confined for being absent without leave.

Improvements proposed for each area include new roads, additional parking areas, sewer, water and sanitary facilities, camping grounds and in some places docks, bath houses and service buildings.

Packard Bids Fond Farewell

In the 65 years since the first automobile was produced, 2,700 different U. S. brand names have helped add to the ever-growing volume of American motor traffic. Today only 17 continue in active competition for buyers' favor—and it will soon be 16.

The latest name to take the road to oblivion is one that was long eminent in the industry as a leader in the fine car field — Packard.

"Ask the man who owns one" was the confident Packard slogan during the years of the company's greatest success. From the time the first Packard was produced 59 years ago until the mid-30s, ownership of a Packard was a mark of financial achievement or social distinction.

Even after the depression knocked the props from under the market for high-priced cars, Packard was still a respected name in the automobile industry. Then come World War II and Packard never recovered its former place.

If Packard is to have no other place than a future role among the antique cars treasured by hobbyists who can afford them, it nonetheless will have left its mark on the industry. Packard was the first car equipped with the steering wheel, to replace the pioneer tiller control. The H-slot gear shift, still in much use, was another Packard first.

There are many who owned Packards who will feel more than a twinge of regret at the demise of a car that was well able to compete on the roads but fell behind in the race recorded on the sales sheets.

Men Are Slaves of Habit

Do you ordinarily have time on your hands? That is, do you wear a wristwatch —and if so, how many times a day do you look at it? Experience says it's oftener than you suspect.

Take the case of the man whose wristwatch went on leave—to the repairman —and threw its owner badly off stride in his daily routine. When he wasn't staring at an unadorned wrist with its pale strip circling a sun-tanned arm he was striding out to a vantage point from which he could take a sight on the office clock. He was so afraid that he wasn't on time that he naturally wasn't.

All of which leads to an old conclusion: that men are more slaves of habit than they think.

Sad Fate of Mrs. Barnes

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a wise woman who avoids positive declarations and an all-or-nothing attitude.

The other day I overheard my young daughter, in a fit of pique, tell a small neighbor, "All right then, I won't be your friend—and I'll never play with you again."

Well, I had to laugh. It always makes me chuckle when I see a member of the feminine sex get up so high on a horse she doesn't know how to get down.

It reminds me of the sad fate of Mrs. Barnes.

The story begins about 40 years ago. Mrs. Barnes and her husband had eight children.

Barnes was a cheerful soul, just this side of shiftlessness. His wife, who came from what she claimed was a better family, was proud and ambitious. She was always after her husband to get a better job and make more money so they could live in a finer neighborhood.

Morning and night she scolded him.

One night Barnes, who had stopped for a couple of beers on the way home, suddenly interrupted her in the middle of a long complaint:

"You got a mouth like a buzz saw. Don't you ever give it a rest?"

Startled, Mrs. Barnes glared at him. Her lips firmed in a thin line.

"Unless you apologize for that unkind remark, Mr. Barnes," she said sternly. "I'll never speak to you the rest of my life."

"Well, I ain't about to apologize, Mrs. Barnes," he replied. Mrs. Barnes was a strong-minded woman, and her word was her bond. Day after day went by—and she spoke to her husband not at all. And he didn't speak to her.

At the start of this strange duel of silence Barnes felt uneasy and repentant. Several times he was on the verge of apologizing. Then one night it dawned on him how much more peaceful and restful his life had become. All at once he realized what a good thing he had—and from then on he was determined never to lose it.

He became more and more independent. When mealtime came, Mrs. Barnes would say to one of the children, "Joe, tell your paw supper's on the table, and gettin' cold."

After Joe had relayed the message to Barnes, who was only 15 feet away, he would answer, "Thank you, Joe. Tell your ma I'll come to the table when I'm durned good and ready—which will be in about five minutes."

And Mrs. Barnes, hearing, would stab a needle viciously into her sewing. But pride held her helpless.

After 10 years Barnes caught pneumonia one winter's day. On his deathbed, surrounded by his 11 weeping offspring with his wife hovering in the background, Barnes reared up and said loud and clear:

"These are your pa's last words, young'uns. Tell your ma the last 10 years have been the happiest of my life, and I sure am grateful to her."

Then he fell back on the bed and died, smiling.

Mrs. Barnes had the undertaker lay him out in the house. According to neighborhood gossip, she talked to him for three days and nights without stopping. But Barnes never heard a word and still had the smile on his face when they buried him.

Moral: It's terribly unsatisfying to try to punish someone and then find out you've actually done him a favor.

its own enormous economy. In addition, American strength will be prime as long as it remains part of the Western community of nations, which must always include Great Britain, France and Germany and the American continents. The United States possesses no gift for learning how to deal with Asiatic countries.

Americans, of a very mixed origin, produce a soft, sentimental race which seems never to learn that weak and backward countries survive at the expense of strong states and develop a variety of techniques to achieve that end. The American attitudes toward Nehru and Nasser are examples of such softness.

In a continuous war of long duration, friends become foes, foes become friends and the strength of states waxes and wanes. That we see it all happen as on a radar screen does not change anything.

LAFF-A-DAY

Air Conditioning Comfort

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Don't be an air conditioning hog. With the warm summer weather at hand, many of you more fortunate persons who have equipped your homes or apartments with air conditioning units are rushing to the thermostat to bring the temperature down 30 or 40 degrees.

Before you make a refrigerator of your home, give a thought to the others who must share it with you. Don't make them shiver just so you can take full advantage of the air conditioner.

While you may feel perfectly comfortable, it may be too cold for your spouse.

Women, you must remember, have an extra layer of fat under their skin. Men don't have this extra bit of insulation and, naturally, they lose body heat more rapidly than do women.

Stout persons also lose heat more slowly than do thin ones. And those who don't perspire as easily as you do, probably will feel uncomfortable at a temperature which makes you perfectly happy. The air conditioner in your home should be adjusted so that everyone is as comfortable as possible. After all, that's the purpose of the machine.

As a general rule, I suggest you allow the temperature to drop no lower than 70 degrees or so. A relative humidity of 50 per cent is about right.

On real hot days, it might be a good idea to keep the temperature in your house about 10 degrees cooler than the weather outside. This is especially advisable if you plan to be in and out of the house frequently.

In many instances, merely squeezing the moisture out of the air will make a home or room comfortable even without any additional cooling.

There are a couple of other things to consider for efficient air conditioning: the number of people in the house, and their activities. If they move around frequently, the air may be chilled a little more than it would be if they were sleeping or just sitting and resting. So don't cool the air just to suit yourself. Think of the others present who want to share the full benefits of air conditioning.

Question and Answer

W. V.: Is there any danger from a blood transfusion?

Answer: Transfusions can cause serious illness if the blood is improperly matched. This rarely occurs, however, because of modern methods of typing and testing the blood.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—A summit meeting now in the United Nations may turn into an eighting circus.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev — after trying unsuccessfully for months to get the United States to a summit meeting on general world problems — proposed such a meeting be held to discuss the Middle East.

In reluctantly agreeing to a summit meeting on the Middle East — provided it was held in the U.N. Security Council — President Eisenhower threw in a couple of words which could open a Pandora's box.

He suggested that other problems vital to peace besides the Middle East could be discussed by the Security Council — and presumably by the heads of government sitting in it. For instance: if Khrushchev was making the United States look bad for sending troops into Lebanon, Eisenhower under the head of "other problems" could do this:

He could start talking about the sins of the Soviet Union, including its brutal suppression of the Hungarian revolution. Then Khrushchev could rush in with proposals on disarmament, an end to nuclear testing, or anything else he had in mind.

For months this country had held off on Khrushchev's call for a summit conference on world problems by insisting there must be adequate preparation and agreement beforehand on what would be discussed.

But there won't be much time for such preparation or agreement on what's to be discussed — outside the Middle East — if the meeting is held within the next few weeks.

And for the United States now to try to delay such a meeting very long — after Khrushchev's quick acceptance — would make poor propaganda for this country in the eyes of the rest of the world.

One thing is sure: any initiative this country might have had on a summit meeting — and it never had much — was lost to the Soviets by the fast, shrewd tactics of Khrushchev.

The Soviet Premier acted within a few days after American troops landed in Lebanon at the request of President Chamoun — who said he feared his government would be overthrown.

Khrushchev accused the United States of interference and talked of the possibility it would lead to war. He called for a summit meeting on the Middle East, he said, to prevent war.

The United States wanted no part of such a meeting but was pushed into agreeing to it by the British, who suggested the meeting be held in the Security Council.

Within less than 24 hours after getting this Western proposal, Khrushchev shot back his acceptance and suggested the meeting start by next Monday in New York. It seems sure the United States, will try to delay such a meeting a few weeks.

In that time some of the Middle East tension—which gave Khrushchev his best talking point — may have begun to dissolve. This way:

The Lebanese will elect a new president as successor to Chamoun July 31. We then can try to extricate ourselves by pulling out our troops as soon as possible on the ground that orderly government is in control in Lebanon and American forces are no longer needed.

This would take some — but by no means all — of the urgency out of Khrushchev's professed desire to settle Middle Eastern problems. British troops almost certainly would not be pulled out of Jordan that soon.

They were sent in there at the request of King Hussein who, like Chamoun, said he feared his government would be overthrown.

There is a widespread, angry Arab mood against Hussein and against the British for rushing in to help him. If the British forces were withdrawn any time soon Hussein's days might be short.

Because both British Prime Minister Macmillan and Khrushchev agreed they shouldn't try to vote in the Security Council — where the Soviets are overwhelmingly outnumbered by this country and its friends on the 11-nation Council — perhaps any talking the heads of government actually did publicly in the Council might be simply spoken words.

There's no reason why they couldn't leave their regular delegates in the Council then and adjourn to a meeting behind closed doors.

Durable Goods Slump End Noted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department says the recession slump in sales of autos, appliances and other consumer durables seems to have been substantially halted.

This appraisal came on the heels of a report by President Eisenhower's economic advisers that the national economy tilted upward in the April-June period for the first time in nearly a year.

The economists reported, however, that consumer purchases of durables continued to slump during the three-month period.

Looking at just the June figures the Commerce Department said: "The decline in outlays for consumer durables, which constituted the major area of recent weakness in consumers' buying, appeared to have been substantially arrested."

Commerce, in its monthly survey of current business, said June produced additional evidence of firmer business conditions.

Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers estimated that second-quarter output of goods and services increased to 428 billion dollars at a seasonally adjusted annual rate.

Known as the gross national product or GNP, this most comprehensive of all economic indicators was up from a recession low of $425,800,000,000 in the first quarter. It hit a peak rate of $445,600,000,000 in the third quarter of 1957.

Increased purchases by individuals and by the government were responsible for the recovery in the GNP. These components rose more than enough to offset a continued slump in gross private domestic investment—construction, inventories and business plant and equipment.

Businesses in the April-June quarter continued to liquidate inventories at the record first-quarter annual rate of 9½ billion dollars.

The Commerce report noted that personal income, a good clue to consumer purchasing power, has regained in recent months all the ground lost early in the recession.

Miss U.S. Is Sparkling Dixie Beauty

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Miss Louisiana, a slender blonde with that special sparkle, is the new Miss United States in 1958's Miss Universe contest.

Eurlyne Howell, 18, has the quality the beauty pageant's top judge described this way: "You fall in love with her as soon as you see her."

Eurlyne has a dazzling smile, blue eyes and long, honey blonde hair. She speaks with a soft Dixie drawl and fits her self-description: "A Southern lady."

She is 5 feet 6, weighs 119 and measures 36 - 23½-35½. These charms helped her Wednesday night in winning over a field of four other blondes, three of them also representing Southern states.

The runners-up, in order, were Miss Florida, Marcia Valibus, 20, Miami Beach; Miss Alabama, Judith Lucille Carlson, 18, Birmingham; Miss Illinois, June Pickney, 22, Chicago; and Miss Georgia, Diane Gail Austin, 18, Atlanta.

All were beautiful. What made Eurlyne the winner?

"It's the same as that indescribable something that makes a girl an actress—or doesn't make her an actress," said Vincent Trotta, head of the nine-judge panel. "This girl has that special sparkle."

Eurlyne comes from Bossier City in northern Louisiana. Her father Ernest is a retired oil well driller. She is a sophomore at Centenary College, Shreveport, La., where she is studying speech and dramatics.

She says she has no particular romantic interest and has turned down four proposals of marriage so far.

International competition begins tonight, when the 34 foreign entries—plus Miss Howell—will be cut down to 15 semifinalists.

Miss Universe will be selected Friday night.

Tool Orders Decline

CLEVELAND (AP) — Net new orders for metal cutting and metal machine tools is off more than 200 million dollars in the first half of 1958 compared to the similar period last year, the National Machine Tool Builders Assn. said Wednesday night.

Bernard Baruch, 88-year-old "elder statesman," once said, "To me, old age is always 15 years older than I am."

"Front-row" seat to the Moon, and the first step in lunar conquest—a satellite telescope. Such a telescope on a space platform—manned or unmanned and controlled remotely from the Earth—would give unprecedented close-ups of the Moon, overcoming the distortion and blurring of images as now seen by telescopes "looking" through the Earth's atmosphere. Scientists estimate a 100-inch 'scope (half the size of the giant Mt. Palomar 'scope) could distinguish lunar objects less than a mile long.

Beyond the Earth Closer Look at Moon Possible

By Rex Stanley
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

Long before the first man sets foot on the corrugated surface of the Moon, scientists of some nation will see it from "front-row" seats—so close, mile-size objects will be clear and distinct.

This unprecedented view of the Moon, possible now with unmanned satellites, is within the reach of both the United States and Russia. The problem is relatively simple: orbit a satellite carrying a remote-controlled telescope. The first nation to do it will gain a wide advantage to eventually launching and landing a lunar military force.

Today's earth-bound telescopes, even the big 200-inch instrument at Mount Palomar, must "see" the Moon through the thick blanket of the Earth's atmosphere. Images are soft, blurred, wavering. Higher magnification would only mean more of this same distortion. However, seen from a satellite telescope, 1,000 miles above the Earth, the Moon's surface would appear sharply distinct, down to small details.

Astronomers estimate that a space telescope only half the power of Mount Palomar could distinguish objects less than a mile long.

To reduce the launching weight of the telescope, thermoplastic materials instead of heavy glass will be used for lenses and mirrors. (The large mirror in the Mount Palomar 'scope weighs 20 tons). Lens surfaces will be protected against corrosive pitting by micro-meteorites. Precision parts will work in a wide range of heat and cold.

Biggest job will be electronic control of the telescope—to keep it tracking the Moon, in focus, and aiming it at particular lunar targets.

The light of images entering the telescope will be converted to electrical impulses, magnified millions of times, then transmitted to the ground-control and study station.

Solons Deadlock On Defense Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal to step up President Eisenhower's defense spending plans by 2½ billion dollars caused a deadlock today in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) said the committee had accepted his proposal to set up an unusual six-senator subcommittee to consider the big increases.

Robertson said the proposed increases involve about 1½ billion dollars for the Air Force and another 800 million for other services above the amounts asked by the President.

"We decided we better take a look at the effects upon the economy and budget plans before actually voting on such large increases," Robertson said as he left a closed-door session.

STAINLESS STEEL jewelry is a tailored touch on dark cotton. Both the earrings and necklace have geometric pattern.

Jeweled Accessories Must Suit Occasion

Does the Queen of England wear her diamond tiara to breakfast? Of course not!

The crown jewels appear often when Her Royal Highness is on an official visit and must look like a story-book queen but, if you study press photographs of Elizabeth, you'll discover that diamonds, rubies and emeralds appear only when she is dressed to the nines in a formal gown.

She doesn't wear a Queen's ransom in jewelry to the races, to the orphans' home she's visiting, to tea. If she did, the world would understand. A Queen, after all, is someone special, a personage who stands above the crowd. However, she does not need dazzling jewels to carry off the role. Her innate dignity and regal bearing are as queenly as a crown.

Take a page from the royal book and learn when to wear sparkling jewelry. A queen, who has a treasure of real gems, knows the proper time to display them. Do you know when to wear your mock jewels, your five-dollar rhinestones or make-believe rubies?

Don't show them off at the office or the supermarket—and women do this; we've seen them. The 8 a. m. commuter bus always has at least one damsel ablaze with rhinestones!

Remember that razzle-dazzle gems are reserved for dress-up occasions. They call for party clothes. Don't wear sparklers with a suit, a blouse and skirt, a tailored cotton. They're out of place, show poor taste.

Match jeweled accessories to the occasion and the outfit. Rhinestones, great ropes of beads, arms filled with bracelets, do not belong in a business office. Choose tailored jewelry. Something simple is something smart.

Pearls—the Duchess of Windsor has made them her trademark for dress-up as well as casual occasions—are always a good choice. Simple gold jewelry is another possibility.

Newest novelty is jewelry created from textured stainless steel. Lightweight, water-thin, with a soft silvery gleam, it is the perfect complement to a tailored outfit. A new process enables patterns to be literally "rolled on" the stainless steel, making it possible to use this industrial material for all manner of accessories from belt buckles to bracelets, necklaces and earrings.

SETTING-UP EXERCISES trim measurements of girls at a summer camp that specializes in slenderizing teen-agers.

Teen-agers Trim Down At Special Charm Camp

Were you ever 14 years old, more than 14 pounds overweight, a self-conscious little blimp whose one distinction was being the fattest girl at a summer camp?

It's a miserable experience, but it happens every year. The Fatties fare forth, take a back seat in sports (thin girls are more athletic) and a front seat at the camp table. More often than not, come home heavier.

One father faced such a problem with a heavyweight daughter. He couldn't find a camp that would control her diet (Oh, those chocolate bars and cola drinks!) so he started one at Harbor Island, near Miami Beach, Florida.

The usual outdoor sports are on the schedule, but the main purpose of the summer is to send Fatty home a Slim Jane with social graces, a knowledge of make-up, hair styles and clothes that flatter, improved posture and greatly raised morale.

Diet, of course, is medically supervised. There's emphasis on exercise and, while it tends to sharpen appetites, there's group will power. All the girls, whose ages range from 14 to 19, are plump, so reducing's competitive. You can eat well, as they discover, without stoking away high-calorie goodies.

Three hours of every day are devoted to classes that develop personality, poise and appearance. Etiquette's covered. Speech is improved. Teens learn how to apply make-up and style their hair. Fashion experts provide tips on choosing clothes that flatter.

The trim-down program is, of course, in full force at all times. It's a summer for slenderizing and developing charm, while enjoying outdoor life.

Campers graduate at summer's end—and they're not expected to return, at least not for reducing. The camp's aim is to develop good eating habits and a desire to keep weight down that will remove any future necessity for reducing.

It's a wonderful program, a marvelous idea. The weight loss, as well as the poise that comes with cosmetic and fashion know-how, does wonders in shaping the personality of a socially awkward, unhappy Fatty. Self-consciousness disappears and a radiant new girl makes her debut.

Now that somebody's taken one step forward—a summer camp to trim-down plump teenagers—how about a follow-up? A private school might do a great deal of good by adding a similar specialized program to the winter curriculum.

Foreign Trade Now Shown In Local Store

While browsing through one of the local furniture stores, we felt as if we were traveling in several foreign countries. The store is carrying a line of imported merchandise.

Different items can be found from Germany, Austria, Italy, England, Sweden and the Philippines.

The china, which is on display from Germany, ranges from display plates, fruit platters and china. Majolica and scenes from the Black Forest are pictured in the display plates. The prices are really a bargain, ranging from $1.25 to $3.50.

The fruit platters are colorful, with a different design on each plate. The hand painted fruit is so near the natural color of fresh fruit they look almost real.

From Austria are free form vases for flower arrangements, ash trays, pitchers and candelabras. They are of two designs and come in silver and gold tones.

Also from Austria you can see pieces of solid crystal. The cut glass is shown in decanters with small glasses to match. You also can get inexpensive punch bowl sets and the small roly-polly glasses.

For the collector of cups and saucers, a nice line is available from England. Assorted patterns come at the low price of $3 a set.

The Royal Wine china of England can be seen in the Cheadle pattern.

The free form vases of black magic from Sweden are very popular. They feature glazed notches with a rough finish.

Something new in table mats! Hot pads from the Philippines, which are woven of braided hemp fiber. They are of neutral color that can be used with any color scheme.

After traveling through the foreign imports, we took a look at items which are becoming popular with the modern homemaker that are made in the United States.

The apothecary jars are becoming very popular in the home. They are mostly used on the dresser and come in sets of three with matching trays. The colors are pink, blue and antique gold accented in jewels or plain. The sets without trays start at $5, and with the tray, $9.

The Blenko glass jugs, decanters and bottles made in West Virginia are available, with colors to blend with almost any combination. Colors shown are crystal, tangerine, sea green, jade, mulberry, charcoal, gold and teal.

Williamsburg restoration brass and iron reproductions are on display. You can find heirloom desk accessories, trivets, candlesticks, door knockers, foot scrapers, cash po flower containers and so many more.

For further information on any of the listed items, call 1335 for details.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frying chickens, an old bargain favorite, and canned hams, a comparative newcomer, will be featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Prices for fryers are down two to six cents a pound in some areas and indications are they'll stay depressed for awhile. Summer supplies are expected to be about a fifth greater than last year.

Canned hams are featured more for their convenience than for economy. They can be served either hot or cold, slice easily for sandwiches and are all meat with no bone to throw away. Pork prices generally are somewhat lower this week.

Beef prices remain on a high level, although some stores are bucking the trend with offerings of rib roasts and chuck roasts. Steak in a wide range of types—chuck, rib, round, sirloin and porterhouse — also is a widely scattered feature.

Fruits and vegetables continue to be cheap.

Cabbage stays at the head of the bargain parade with cucumbers, snap beans, lettuce, potatoes and tomatoes right behind. Tomatoes are one of the vegetables affected by rain, so the wise shopper will look them over carefully.

Celery, radishes and onions also are outstanding buys, while good bargains are obtainable in cauliflower, sweet corn, peppers, carrots and spinach.

Peaches are the star attraction at fruit counters. Watermelons also are unusually plentiful. Competition from the two is driving prices of other fruits down. These include blueberries, navel oranges and lemons, cantaloups and honeydew melons.

Girl, 18, Due To Become Greatgrandma

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Ida Jane Caudill, 18, has no qualms about becoming a great grandmother next Monday.

That's the day she marries Steve Horsley, 73, who is six times a great grandfather.

"It's love," the brown-haired Ida Jane told newsmen today. "I never gave his age a second thought. I accepted as soon as he proposed."

Steve, a junk hauler, also believes it's a love match. But he has a practical view of marriage, too.

"Ida Jane's a hard worker and a good cook," he adds.

Horsley has been married twice before. His first wife died after 22 years of marriage, and his second wife died last year after 35 years of marriage. He has two children, seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

He looks at the marriage this way: "A body needs somebody to come home to at night. Somebody to talk to and go to church with. I meet the public in my work all day long—and everybody knows me. But coming home to an empty house with no dinner on the table isn't for me. Ida Jane's a good girl. I know we'll be happy."

Ida Jane just knows she'll be happy too. "He's wonderful," she said.

Ida Jane's father, Clarence Bischer who lives a couple of blocks from Steve, said he and Ida's mother are all in favor of the marriage. "I've known Steve for 35 years," he said, "and Ida Jane couldn't do better. We know he'll take good care of her."

Time and place of the ceremony haven't been decided. But the future looks bright for Steve. Ida Jane says she loves to cook.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Much counsel is given the single woman, in magazine articles and other media; but I've never seen anything written about a mother's unhappy feeling of failure when her girls don't marry.

By the time a spinster reaches her thirties perhaps the mother should be less involved emotionally—should have more or less washed her hands of the problem. But how does one arrive at that state of mind?

When I was raising my children I really felt that I was being a good mother; but now I have my doubts and it makes me very depressed. They weren't whipped or mistreated; but in my day it was considered proper to train children in obedience more than parents do today—so maybe we "repressed" them.

There are few social opportunities in our rural area; and we had to depend upon ourselves mostly for recreation—reading, movies, music, picnics, rides and the like. The children had a few school friends; and when they were grown and ready for jobs they moved to the city.

Our girls, now in their thirties, have had several heart-breaking love affairs, but manage to bear up courageously and keep going. They seem to have plenty of friends, both single and married; and are regular church-goers, taking part in whatever offers. But they just don't seem to meet or attract eligible men. Our friends have never appealed to the children, so it has been impossible for us to promote any "prospects" for them.

I can't truthfully say that my husband and I were happy together, in the children's younger years; but we tried to keep the surface smooth. As we are older, we are much more compatible and happy; never cross with each other any more. If only things could have been this way when the children were small, maybe they'd be happier today.

Well, that's the story. Now what is your advice. If there is anything I can do, it would be so much better than futile worry.

C.Y.

DEAR C.Y.: If your daughters are still living at home, under the paternal roof and maternal wing, this might be construed as their present principal and growing hindrance to "catching a man." In which case, you might give them a boost towards matehood by nudging them out of the nest, to find new moorings.

Psychological immaturity, chronically perpetuated by remaining in the adolescent mold, in relation to parents, is the unsensed factor warding off marriage in many spinster lives.

But if your daughters are city dwellers, on their own, self-supporting of recent years, I feel the time has come to absolve yourself of accountability for their current and future experiences of the heart.

It may be that the girls have a vaguely joyless colorless spirit, an echo of your characteristic anxiety bias—which registers and reverberates in your present guilt sense about their unmarried status.

My advice is to concentrate your energies and intelligence on lifting your spirit to the level of joyous confident thinking as the usual thing—and then you'll be lifting your daughters' lives too, without stewing about them. Read Emmet Fox's books: "The Sermon on the Mount," "Power Through Constructive Thinking," or "Stake Your Claim." (Harpers) to break the spell of pessimism.

Five New Teachers Are Hired By Area Boards of Education

The Westfall Board of Education Monday evening employed four more new teachers for the 1958-59 school year. The Teays Valley board hired one new teacher.

James R. Brown, 27, Lancaster, was hired to teach junior high and high school history and English at Jackson Twp. school. Brown will replace Paul Rees who has accepted an offer near Dayton.

Brown was born in Lancaster and is a 1948 graduate of Lancaster High School. He attended Circleville Bible College from 1952 until 1954, and received a degree from Trevecca College, Nashville, Tenn., in 1958. He has a bachelor of arts degree. Brown is married and the father of one child.

Lowell G. Anderson will teach the sixth grade at Darby Twp. School. He replaces Mrs. Jane Gulick who will fill the vacancy created by Miss Marilyn Dickson in grade two at Darby. Miss Dickson resigned to accept a position in Ross County, to be nearer her home in Chillicothe.

ANDERSON, 19, Route 1, Kingston, has a cadet teaching certificate from Capital University. He was born in Pike County and is a 1956 Salter Creek Twp. High School graduate. He is a member of the EUB Church.

Sandra Kay Baughman, 22, Bellevue, has been employed to teach commerce at Monroe Twp. High School. She replaces Ralph Wellington, who resigned to devote fulltime to his job with the Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Miss Baughman is a 1958 graduate of Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree in business education. She was born in Bellevue and is a 1954 graduate of Bellevue High School. She holds a four-year provisional certificate.

Catherine Peters Wagner, 23, Columbus, will teach music at three schools in the Westfall district. She will instruct two days a week at Monroe; two and one half days at Darby and one half day at Mühlenberg.

Mrs. Wagner was born in Cleveland and is a 1953 graduate of East Cleveland Shaw High School. She is a 1957 graduate of Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree in music education. She has a four-year provisional certificate.

Roy L. Chipps, 30, Salem, W. Va., has been employed by Teays Valley to teach industrial arts at Ashville-Harrison High School. He replaces Chun Chow, who resigned for unknown reasons.

CHIPPS is a 1958 graduate of Salem College with a bachelor of arts degree. He was born in Smithfield, W. Va., and is a 1953 graduate of Doddridge County High School.

Mrs. Joan Owen, 526 N. Court St., recently resigned her mathematics and science teaching position at Monroe Twp. High School. Mrs. Owen will accompany her husband, Ike, to Norwalk High School, Norwalk.

West Ohio Gas Asks Approval To Get Loans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The West Ohio Gas Co. of Lima Wednesday asked the Utilities commission to let it borrow money from two places.

The gas company wants to borrow $500,000 from the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago under a two year promissory note bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest. That money would be used to reimburse the company's treasury for past improvements.

West Ohio also wants to borrow 1 1/2 million dollars from the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., under 4 1/2 per cent sinking fund debentures due in 1978. Most of that money would be used to retire notes held by Northern Trust Co. including the loan requested today.

Surplus Disposal Plan Is Extended

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House overrode administration objections today and passed a bill extending for another year the farm surplus disposal program. The measure now goes to conference with the Senate to compromise conflicts between the two branches.

Republican efforts to force a roll call were unsuccessful, and passage was by a 195-52 standing vote.

The bill provides for sale abroad of farm surpluses for foreign currencies, and authorized 1 1/2 billion dollars to carry out the program.

The Senate-passed bill calls for a two-year extension and an additional 3 1/2 billion dollars to carry it out.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun and Bradstreet food index, eased somewhat this week.

At $6.62 the index compared with $6.65 a week ago and was 4.3 percent higher than the $6.33 figure in the similar week last year. This week's reading was the lowest since the week ended June 10.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use. Higher this week were barley, berries, eggs, raisins and prunes. Lower were flour, wheat, rye, oats, beef, hams, lard, sugar, tea, cocoa, steers and hogs.

138,000 Volt Charge Felt By Workman

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Orlando Caferro, a 30-year-old construction worker, must consider himself lucky today. He's still alive.

He was jolted by a surge of 138,000 volts of electricity Wednesday and received burns over most of his body. His condition was listed as fair at St. Joseph Hospital. Had the full current coursed through his body, there would have been little hope of saving him, police said.

Caferro, a machine operator, was riding a cable out of a trench where he had installed a sewer when the accident occurred.

A crane was raising both Caferro and the cable. The boom of the crane got within six feet of a high tension line carrying 138,000 volts, a spokesman for Ohio Edison Co. said.

When the boom neared the high tension line the current surged in an arc from the power line to the boom. It then went down the cable which Caferro was riding and to the ground below.

Fortunately, the part of the cable below Caferro still was touching moist ground when the current started flowing, reducing the shock he received.

The crane operator quickly swung the boom away from the tension line when he saw what was happening. It broke the arc, the current stopped and Caferro was sent sprawling a foot or two.

Do You Have Two Brains?

By Raymond Wilcove
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WASHINGTON—As if man doesn't have enough headaches already, medical science has now come up with the theory that he's carrying two brains in that head of his.

This intriguing theory, which can mean much to the advancement of mankind, is now undergoing intensive experimentation at the National Institutes of Health in suburban Bethesda, Md.

There, brain researchers, excited by the discoveries they have already made, are confident their experiments will prove the theory to be correct.

It is based on the belief that all animals, including man, have a primitive brain, which first evolved. Over the years of animal development another mass of gray and white matter accumulated on top and around the original brain. This new brain has reached its highest development in man.

The old brain is believed to be the seat of man's animal instincts, concerned largely with such emotions as sex, fear, rage and hunger. The new brain, it is theorized, controls man's intellectual functions.

Unfortunately, the two brains don't always work in unison. Quite often they clash. Thus, for example, when a man becomes angry, the primitive brain sends down impulses which make the heart beat faster.

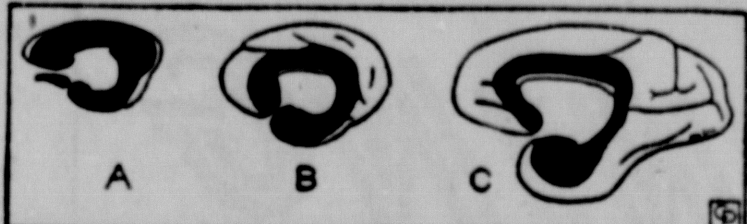

The new brain, though taking a more intellectual approach, reasons that the whole thing is much ado about nothing, and directs the heart to slow down. Between the two, the heart takes a beating.

In order to prove their theories, the scientists at Bethesda are delving into the brains of animals, stimulating one part, removing another, and noting the effects.

For example, one test animal, with part of his primitive brain removed, refused to eat food. Conversely, monkeys, normally avid eaters of bananas, developed a great liking instead for fish, raw meat and even metal bolts and nuts.

Other animals, whose primitive brains were altered, would show all the signs of anger, but without any apparent faculty to direct their rage against those who provoked their anger. Thus, a test cat, when provoked, bristled with rage, but took no retaliatory action.

Alteration of the primitive brains of these animals apparently affected ed their ability to carry on the functions connected with the preservation of life itself.

In their experiments, the scientists are striving first to identify those areas of the primitive brain concerned with instinctive emotions.

Doctors have long felt that various mental emotions affect man's physical well being—anger, the heart and blood pressure; resentment, the stomach; grief, respiration.

The brain researchers believe that if man is to improve in the evolution of time, his new brain, the seat of his intellectual power, must learn to control his primitive brain.

Lack of Panic Buying Seen Aiding Economy

Public Acting Blase
About One Crisis
After Another

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers who failed to be panicked by the sharp drop in industrial activity since last summer are halting the slump and laying solid ground for a new rise.

They also seem to be taking the Middle East crisis in stride. After years of one crisis after another, the public apparently is growing blase and doesn't react the way it once did.

Rising government spending is also helping turn the economy up again—if only slightly.

And businessmen seem to be regaining their confidence, talking more convincingly about a fall upturn and in some cases increasing their orders for materials or semi-finished goods.

These deductions come from a report of the President's economic advisers on the indicators sighted in the April-May-June quarter, with the month of June turning in the most convincing figures.

In the second quarter spending for goods and services reversed a nine-month downward trend. It rose by 2½ billion dollars to reach an estimated annual rate of 428 billion.

Although this is well below the peak of 445 billion reached last summer, the upturn has significance because all but 400 million of the second quarter gain is credited to increased personal spending. Increased government spending is just getting under way.

The consumer, however, is taking most of the bows. He switched his affections from big ticket durable goods to soft goods and services. He even saved a larger percentage of his income — although this trend also is being reversed.

But the consumer didn't panic. He bought what he needed. He responded quickly to bargains. And much of the success of the hoop-la campaigns put on during the dark days of the recession — January-February and March — generally is credited to the fact that real bargains were promoted.

Family budgets may have been watched a little closer. But consumers for the most part regulated themselves reasonably — and without government controls.

So, if after the summer lull, the economy is found healthy and on a moderate upturn this fall, much of the credit must go to the public that didn't lose its head.

British Tanker Calls For Oil at Aqaba

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The 5,000-ton British tanker Clyde Explorer has arrived at Aqaba with the first seaborne shipment of emergency oil for fuel-short Jordan, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

The U.S. Globemaster operation, which brought emergency fuel to this country in a sky train, is now finished. The airlift will be continued by different type planes.

Ole Ern Is Firm Believer In Relaxed School of TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tennessee Ernie Ford was asked if he planned any changes in his television shows this fall. He didn't say yes or no or maybe. He said: "No use digging bait when you got a boatload of fish."

That's a Fordism. Ernie's no simple yes or no man. When the occasion calls for it he comes out with a country-style metaphor to fit. And usually it fits very nicely.

Asked for a few typical Ford phrases he came up with a hefty list, some of Tennessee origin and others coined by Ernie. Here they are, mostly self-explanatory:

"I'm tired as a two-pound hen that's laid a three-pound egg."

"Thicker than fleas on a wet dog."

"Colder than a beaver's belly."

"I handed you a bucket, you may as well milk."

"Nervous as a long-tailed cat in a roomful of rocking chairs."

"I feel like I been rode hard and put away wet."

"She's built like a sackful of doorknobs."

"Redder than a gander's feet in a huckleberry patch."

"Tossed me from the buggy before I was finished riding."

"It's as useful as a milking stool under a bull."

"It caused as much talk as a new rooster in the hen house."

Ford is doing very well in television and television is his mainstay. Unlike many other entertainers, he does not make movies or go out on night club dates, although he does appear at state and county fairs. His other entertainment activity is making records.

Ole Ern is a strong believer in the relaxed, comfortable school of television.

"Bringing a show into the home is altogether different from the theater or a night club," he commented. "I keep remembering that I am being watched in the living room, where people are relaxed—where Pop is in his shirt-sleeves, and where there is no baby sitter and they can change the channel at any moment."

Maybe the hillbilly singer has got himself a pretty good formula. At any rate, while his network (NBC) was retrenching and still hadn't re-sold many of its shows for the fall season, Ford was already signed up tight by his old sponsor and already making commercials for fall.

Marian Anderson Appointed by Ike To U.N. Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has appointed Negro contralto Marian Anderson and six others as new members of the United States delegation to the United Nations.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee members said the nominations would get overwhelming confirmation.

Besides Miss Anderson, the president named Senators Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) and Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to represent Congress in the General Assembly session opening Sept. 16.

Other new members are Herman Phleger, Redwood City, Calif. attorney; George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks; Watson W. Wise, Tyler, Tex., businessman; and Irving Salomon, Chicago, board chairman of Royal Metal Manufacturing Co.

Pal Joey Jay Puts Braves Back In NL 1st Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pel Joey has won another big one for Milwaukee, this time with a two-hitter that hoisted the Braves back into the National League lead.

Young Joey Jay blanked St. Louis 6 - 0 on a pair of singles Wednesday night as the champs moved a full game ahead of San Francisco.

The Giants, after winning six in a row, slipped to second with 3-2 and 2-0 defeats at Philadelphia. The first was a completion of a June 22 suspended game and marked Eddie Sawyer's return as manager of the Phils, who moved from sixth to within .001 of fourth-place St. Louis.

Weary Horse Wins in Race Over Humans

ROOSEVELT, Utah (AP) — A winded, weary horse won, but a New York City policeman and a North Carolina policeman made a good showing for the human animal in a 157-mile marathon race.

The horse, with 24-year-old Stewart Paulick of Tooele, Utah, aboard, crossed the finish line in this eastern Utah cattle town at 3:16 p.m. Wednesday — just 29 hours, 31 minutes and 42 seconds after the race began in Salt Lake City Tuesday morning.

Paulick's horse was placed under a veterinarian's care. It was feared he might be coming down with pneumonia.

When the horse reached Roosevelt, postman Paul Simpson, 53, of Burlington, N. C., was still running—about 50 miles from the finish. He vowed he wouldn't quit, but officials finally persuaded him to about 8 p.m. He was about 35 miles short of his goal.

Edo Romagnoli, 37-year-old New York policeman from Ozone Park, N. Y., was neck-and-neck with the horse for 100 miles. But he dropped behind and quit at the 118-mile mark—his toenails worn off and his legs aching.

Romagnoli covered the 100 miles in 21 hours, 22 minutes.

Three distance runners and four horsemen started the marathon.

Cubs 6-3 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh plunked Los Angeles back into the cellar with an 11-3 and 6-3 two-night sweep.

Jay, 22, has won five in a row for a 6-3 record.

The Phils trailed 1-0 with two on and two out in the sixth when the June 22 curfew sounded. Wednesday night, lefty Harry Anderson tagged a three-run homer off southpaw Johnny Antonelli when play resumed. That beat Ruben Gomez, the starter back in June, and gave Robin Roberts a 9-9 record although the Phils managed just three hits.

The Giants' streak officially ended in the regulation game. Rookie Ray Semproch won his 12th with a five-hitter for his second shutout, both over the Giants.

Frank Robinson drove in four runs for the Reds, two with a double that capped a four-run fifth and the other pair with his winning, 13th homer off reliever Don Elston (7-6). Hal Jeffcoat (5-6) won it in relief, after giving up Bobby Thomson's solo homer in the 10th. George Crowe also belted a two-run homer for the Reds.

Ron Kline won his 10th with a four-hitter in the opener for the Pirates, blanking the Dodgers on one hit after Steve Bilko's homer in the first inning. Stan Williams (6-4) lost it. Roberto Clemente lined a three-run, inside-the-park homer.

Dick Groat, who had two RBIs in the opener, drove in four in the nightcap.

Maybe the toughest run of bad luck the Detroit Tigers have had this season was taking seven in a row from the New York Yankees, for now the American League leaders have come bombing back in reprisal.

In two nights Casey Stengel's machine has cracked the Tigers for 41 hits and 29 runs.

Wednesday night the Yankees belted Frank Lary for four runs, then celebrated with a pair of six - run innings against three other lambs for a 16-4 victory.

New York again has a 13-game bulge over second-place Boston, beaten 3-1 at Kansas City. Baltimore retained third by defeating the Chicago White Sox 6-4. Cleveland whipped Washington 5-3.

The A's beat Red Sox rookie bill Monbouquette in his first major league decision with an unearned run in the first and a pair in the third on three singles and Bob Cerv's sacrifice fly. Ralph Terry blanked the Sox on five hits until Pete Runnels singled and Ted Williams doubled him home in the eighth.

The Orioles, within 2½ games of second, had only four hits for eight innings, then beat Early Wynn (9-10) with four runs in the ninth at Chicago. Joe Ginsberg, who earlier counted two runs with his first homer, singled home the first run of the rally. Jack Harshman's pinch single tied it and Bob Boyd's two-run double won it for reliever George Zuverink (2-1).

Russ Nixon drove in three runs for the Indians with a homer and a two-run double that capped a three-run, come-from-behind seventh inning.

Siebern Winning Stengel's Praise

DETROIT (AP) — Just a few weeks ago Casey Stengel called Norm Siebern "an almost big leaguer."

Now Siebern, the latest in a long line of slugging New York Yankee outfielders, has persuaded his manager to remove the "almost" part of the description.

Siebern is on an eight-game hitting streak in which he has collected 20 hits in his last 37 at-bats for a .541 batting average. In his last two games, against the Detroit Tigers, Siebern has hit safely six times in 10 at-bats.

Tribe Pleased By Showing Of Pitchers

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians now have had six complete pitching jobs in the last seven games. They have only managed four victories in that span, however.

The best news on the pitching front for Manager Joe Gordon is the apparent return of Jim (Mudcat) Grant to his early season form.

The rookie right-hander, who hadn't won a game in more than a month and lost five during that stretch, returned to the win column Wednesday night with a neat five-hitter that beat Washington's Senators 5-3.

Catcher Russ Nixon and outfielder Gary Geiger joined the "hero" listing along with Grant as the Indians took their second straight decision from Washington.

Nixon drove in three runs with a homer and a double. The two-base hit knocked in two runs in the seventh inning and broke a 3-3 tie. Geiger had evened the count the same inning with his first major league homer, a shot over the right field fence.

The younger centerfielder showed no ill effects from his beaming Tuesday night as he patrolled the outer garden brilliantly. He made at least two great catches and started a double play in the first inning after a fine catch on a fly by Albie Pearson. He robbed Pearson again in the eighth with a diving grab.

Nixon's homer in the second frame sent the Tribe out to a 1-0 lead. Larry Doby's single following a walk to Geiger and a ground out gave Cleveland a 2-0 advantage in the fifth inning.

Meanwhile, Grant was buzzing along in smooth style. He held the Nats hitless for four innings while his mates turned in three double plays to keep the bases cleared. Clint Courtney got the first hit in the fifth, and the Senators teed off on Mudcat in the sixth.

They rapped him for three hits and three runs with an error by Billy Moran and a wild pitch adding to the miseries.

That put Washington in front 3-2. But this time the Indians staged the late rally for three runs in the seventh.

The younger centerfielder showed no ill effects from his beaming Tuesday night as he patrolled the outer garden brilliantly. He made at least two great catches and started a double play in the first inning after a fine catch on a fly by Albie Pearson. He robbed Pearson again in the eighth with a diving grab.

Nixon's homer in the second frame sent the Tribe out to a 1-0 lead. Larry Doby's single following a walk to Geiger and a ground out gave Cleveland a 2-0 advantage in the fifth inning.

Meanwhile, Grant was buzzing along in smooth style. He held the Nats hitless for four innings while his mates turned in three double plays to keep the bases cleared. Clint Courtney got the first hit in the fifth, and the Senators teed off on Mudcat in the sixth.

They rapped him for three hits and three runs with an error by Billy Moran and a wild pitch adding to the miseries.

That put Washington in front 3-2. But this time the Indians staged the late rally for three runs in the seventh.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians now have had six complete pitching jobs in the last seven games. They have only managed four victories in that span, however.

The best news on the pitching front for Manager Joe Gordon is the apparent return of Jim (Mudcat) Grant to his early season form.

The rookie right-hander, who hadn't won a game in more than a month and lost five during that stretch, returned to the win column Wednesday night with a neat five-hitter that beat Washington's Senators 5-3.

Catcher Russ Nixon and outfielder Gary Geiger joined the "hero" listing along with Grant as the Indians took their second straight decision from Washington.

Nixon drove in three runs with a homer and a double. The two-base hit knocked in two runs in the seventh inning and broke a 3-3 tie. Geiger had evened the count the same inning with his first major league homer, a shot over the right field fence.

SALLY'S SALLIES

DETROIT (AP) — Just a few weeks ago Casey Stengel called Norm Siebern "an almost big leaguer."

Now Siebern, the latest in a long line of slugging New York Yankee outfielders, has persuaded his manager to remove the "almost" part of the description.

Siebern is on an eight-game hitting streak in which he has collected 20 hits in his last 37 at-bats for a .541 batting average. In his last two games, against the Detroit Tigers, Siebern has hit safely six times in 10 at-bats.

Tax Returns For Period Due July 31

All persons having Ohio vendors' licenses are required to file their next semi-annual sales tax returns by July 31 for the period January 1 to June 30, 1958, according to announcement today by the Department of Taxation, Division of Sales, Excise and Highway Use Taxes.

Returns mailed to the Treasurer of State should be postmarked not later than July 31 to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

To assist vendors with these returns, the Department of Taxation has arranged to have an examiner or examiners stationed at the Pickaway County Court House Thursday.

Vendors seeking assistance from examiners will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, such as a copy of their return for the previous period, a record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 41 cents or over for the period January 1 to June 30, 1958.

VENDORS will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the first half of 1958.

Vendors are no longer required to have sales tax returns sworn to before a notary public or a representative of the Department of Taxation. The vendor, however, is required to sign the declaration on the return that the information given is true.

When completed, all returns must be filed with or mailed to the Treasurer of State, P. O. Box 1799, Columbus, Ohio. If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, remittance in the amount of tax due should accompany the return, made payable to the Treasurer of State, either by check, draft or money order.

Act of Kidness For Worthy Cause

Despite the hustle and bustle of this modern day world, some persons still take time out to perform an act of good will.

One of these kindly gestures was realized here recently, for benefit of the Pickaway County Crippled Children's Society.

An anonymous person living in Columbus received an unexpected $10 check from the firm where he works. He immediately turned the check over to Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff here, with directions that the money be given to the Crippled Children's organization.

The giver is a former resident of Pickaway County. He told Sheriff Radcliff that "whenever he had something to give away, it would go to Pickaway County."

Stock Mart Prices Nudge Ahead Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices nudged ahead irregularly in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Gains of key stocks ran generally from fractions to about a point. There was an assortment of losers in the same range.

After seven straight three-million-share days which included six successive advances, the market ran into a breathing spell. Opening prices were mixed and shortly thereafter trading became very sluggish. An improvement in prices was accompanied by a pickup in activity.

Gains prevailed among a number of steels, rails, oils, chemicals and selected issues. Aircrafts and coppers were mostly lower. Utilities were ahead on average.

Inland Steel, which reported improved second-quarter earnings, rose 2 1/2 to 99 1/2 on a block of 1,200 shares and held its gain. Youngstown Sheet also was ahead about two points.

American Cyanamid, which rose 4 1/2 Wednesday as the most active stock, dropped 1 1/2 to 49 on a delayed opening of 10,000 shares and later showed a loss of more than 2. It leaped Wednesday on over-optimistic reports of its progress in cancer research which were deflated later.

Gains of about a point were scored by Caterpillar, Air Reduction, Baltimore & Ohio and International Paper.

Losses of around a point were taken by Kennecott, Anaconda, Radio Corp., Boeing and United Aircraft.

U. S. government bonds eased.

Ohio Candidates Put in Busy Day in Rallies Across State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wednesday was a busy day for three of Ohio's four candidates for governor and U.S. Senator.

Both Democratic hopefuls, Michael V. DiSalle, candidate for governor, and Stephen Young, seeking a U.S. Senate seat, were campaigning, and GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill staged the sixth in his series of Governor's Day picnics. Only Republican Sen. John W. Bricker was absent from the state's political scene.

DiSalle's caravan toured the 17th Congressional District, making stops at Ashland, Newark, Delaware, Coshocton, Millersburg and winding up the day with simultaneous dinner meetings at Mount Vernon and Mansfield.

Young was the other speaker at the evening stops.

DiSalle again jibed at O'Neill's picnics, referring to them as "burlesque appearances," "carnival picnics and rallies" and "super duper, super colossal affairs."

He attacked the governor's claims of a 38-million-dollar surplus, that the GOP made Ohio first in the nation in highway construction, and no new taxes.

He accused the O'Neill administration of "juggling figures" to show the surplus. He said:

"This income balance must eventually be used to make up deficiencies in school aid, aid for the aged and poor relief. The state had a cash balance of 48 million dollars from the previous (Democratic) administration and now it has shrunk to 38 million dollars."

On highway construction, the former Toledo mayor said the state was also first in the nation in 1956 and 1957, adding that the present program is a continuance of one started by former Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Answering O'Neill's no new taxes claim, DiSalle pointed out that taxes are being levied to retire the 500-million-dollar highway and 150-million-dollar capital improvement bond issues.

At his stops he also showed a photostatic copy of a letter which he said was sent to state fire inspectors by State Fire Marshal Emmett P. Brush Jr. DiSalle said the letter was "indisputable evidence that the office of the state fire marshal is being used as a collection agency for the Republican campaign."

Young accused his Republican opponent of living in the past, saying Sen. Bricker voted last year "to reduce our Marine Corps by 22,000 and to eliminate 200 atom-carrying bombers."

This, he said, was done at a time when America is in grave peril and must maintain strong armed forces.

O'Neill's picnic at Cedar Point, near Sandusky, attracted an estimated 8,500 people.

He made no mention of DiSalle's continuing attack on the rallies, but again, as he had done on previous outings, reviewed the achievements of his administration.

Ted Lewis Remembers 'Old Days'

Circleville's Ted Lewis was the subject of an article in The Chicago Daily News several days ago. The story was written by Tony Weitzel, popular Chicago columnist.

Weitzel centered his article on the so-called "good old days" as remembered by Ted. The bandman's boyhood days in Circleville also were discussed.

As most older citizens here remember, Ted's early days in show business were not of the easy variety, especially during his periods of travel with carnivals and other fast-moving shows.

Weitzel's article went on to explain Ted's musical association with Cricket Smith, local Negro barber who had a hand in Ted's fondness for jazz. With Cricket plunking the banjo and Ted chiming in with his clarinet, the two made quite a musical combination.

FROM this simple beginning, Ted wandered off to the show world. All was not well in those early days, including the time Ted barnstormed in the wilds of Canada and got stranded in Moose Jaw. He pawned his agent's con-skin coat to get back to civilization.

Good old days? According to Ted, "it was a living."

Imler Files Suit For Damages

Ronald W. Imler, Route 1, Kingston, today filed a $23,193.06 damage suit in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court against Oakley W. Forrest, Circleville.

Imler, represented by local attorney Ray W. Davis, stated that on Nov. 26, 1956, he was struck from the rear by an automobile operated by Forrest, Imler said he was walking along the berm on Route 56 toward Laurelville on the east side of the road.

Imler's petition related that the Forrest auto was traveling in the same direction when it left the road and struck him. He contended that Forrest failed to have his car under control.

As a result of the accident, Imler maintained that he suffered severe injuries and shock. He was hospitalized for 10 days and unable to work until June 2, 1957.
